

New Water, Wastewater and Ancillary Services Framework

WME are pleased to announce that following a Public Sector Buying Organisation (PSBO) collaborative procurement exercise with YPO, TEC and ESPO we've awarded the new Water, Wastewater and Ancillary Services framework to Wave.

The new framework went live on 1st November 2020 and covers all aspects of water supply and management for our customers as well as wider public sector organisations.

The framework offers customers a quick, simple and compliant route to market, delivering quality of service, competitive prices, and a commitment to supporting customers with their efficiency targets. The framework provides additional benefits from key account management, robust KPIs and oversight by WME and the other three PSBO partners.

Wave's director of public sector customers, Tony March said:

"We're delighted to have been awarded onto this joint PSBO framework. We're looking forward to working with TEC to deliver great quality service to support its members and to develop new and exciting initiatives that drive water efficiencies"

Should you be interested in the new Water, Wastewater and Ancillary Services Framework with Wave, please contact westmerciaenergy@customerservices.co.uk for further information.